Council Suggests Special Rooters Train Policemen

Student Council voted unanimously in regular meeting Monday to recommend to the next Council that action be taken to provide for railroad policemen on all future rooters train trips in order to assist with the enforcement of policies. The motion passed after Don Baxter, chairman of the rooters train trip, made his report to Council. Upon recommendation of Tom Willoughby, ASSSC president, Council went into closed session for Baxter's report.

Willoughby stated, "Because of the nature of the report, it might be detrimental to someone's reputation, so necessarily it would be better if it were not public information."

Before the final motion was passed, Council discussed various avenues of action open to them. Recommendations included hiring of Pinkerton men or private detectives.

During the discussion John Krier, Associated Students manager, said, "If we asked for a special police agent, the railroad would put one of their own on. That should take care of the drinking problem."

Dr. Donald W. Bailey, dean of students, said, "You can see why parents would be hesitant to give permission to go on a trip of this kind. It's more than a moral question; it's a question of legal responsibility."

Joanna Clark made the motion to recommend the policing action. Bob Warner seconded the move.

Jack Brooks, Associated Students vice president, stated that there were 43 entries in the Herky the Hornet design contest.

Council unanimously approved the constitution of Alpha Mu which Baxter, chief justice of the board of justice said is a "combination of musical honorary, and social fraternity."

Council will hold its regular meeting next week in joint session with the cabinet of coordinators.

Assembly Follows Christmas Theme

Dale Johnson and John Wells will act as co-chairmen for the annual Christmas assembly. It has been scheduled for next Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Little Theater. The program will be sponsored by the religious groups on campus.

A Christmas Story is the theme done on a tableau basis. Scenes will be set on stage with elaborate lighting done by John Frieseke. Paschal Monk will direct the A Capella choir to provide background music. A gauze curtain will separate them from the scene in front.

Solos will take place in O Little Town of Bethlehem done by Dwight Wilson and Sandra Rhodes singing O Holy Night.

After the program, Monk, with the choir, will encourage the audience to paraticipate in a community sing.

Coming Events

TODAY—Junior class prom, Eastern Star temple, 9 p.m.; The Cloak—Little Theater, 8 p.m.; boxing vs. University of Santa Clara, gymnasium, 8 p.m.; Young Democrat and Campus Republican meetings.

SATURDAY—Recital, Little Theater, 7 p.m.; basketball vs. Long Beach State, Gym, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, December 19 through Tuesday, January 1—Christmas recess.

WEDNESDAY, January 2—Lutheran students meeting.

THURSDAY—ICC, 202 Administration building, 1 p.m.

Students Get Respite; Library Open Daily

The Christmas vacation will get underway Wednesday as Sacramento State College students observe two week's respite from classes.

Classes will resume on January 2, 1957.

Dr. Alan D. Covey, librarian, has announced that the college library will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The library will be closed all day Saturday.

Puccini's Opera Presented Tonight

Giacomo Puccini's The Cloak will be staged at 8:13 tonight in the Little Theater. Sacramento State College's Opera Workshop, under the direction of James Adair, associate professor of music, will give the performance.

The Cloak is a tragedy of life on a barge on the river Seine. Michele, skipper of the barge, played by Jack Kindice, is married to Georgette, played by soprano Nancy Salardino. She despises life on the barge and dreams of a home in the country.

Georgette falls in love with Luigi, a stevedore, sung by tenor Delbert Silva. The song-vendor and the chorus sing of the lighter side of life as tragedy unfolds on the stage for the rest of the cast.

Others in the cast are Bob Erbacher, James Haynes, Sandra Rhodes, and members of the Opera Workshop.

Admission is free and the performance is open to the public.

Board Affirms Subpoena Right

Board of justice Monday decided that it has an enforceable "right of subpoena," but took no action against two students who ignored subpoenas in the recent George Mandich, Paul Stamas trial.

Don Baxter, chief justice, stated that no penalty was imposed against the two students, who failed to appear, because extenuating circumstances rendered their actions excusable.

Baxter writing for a 4-1 majority, stated "The idea of the right of subpoena is not a new one or without precedent. It is well established in municipal, state and federal judiciaries that the right of subpoena is inherent in the right of jurisdiction."

Justice Roger Whitney dissented from the majority decision. He claimed that some penalty should be evoked against the two violators.

Justices Gary David, Neil Amick and Shirley Cuneo concurred with Baxter's decision.

HERKY—This characterization of Herky the Hornet, drawn by Jim Enos, was the winner of the Herky contest sponsored by the cabinet of coordinators. It was selected in an election Wednesday. Enos will receive a prize of $25 for his work.

Tallmon Attends Blue Key Confab

Bob Tallmon has been chosen to represent Sacramento State College as official delegate to the Blue Key national convention in New Orleans, La. The convention will be held December 28 through 30. Bruce Becker was selected as alternate.

Blue Key, men's honorary fraternity, has chosen three men as pledges. They are Bill Hickey, Sherwood De Wein and Richard Baker.

Hickey is coordinator of athletics and member of the SSC track team. He was voted outstanding field events man of the team last year.

De Wein is coordinator of publications, a member of Circle K and former business manager of The Hornet.

Baker is coordinator of fine arts and is active in the music department.

Members are chosen on the basis of grade point average and activities.

Tow Willoughby, Blue Key president, stated that the pledges will be initiated into the society later this semester.

Placement Office To Host Administrators Conference

The placement office of Sacramento State College in co-operation with the Teacher Education organization is sponsoring a school administrators' conference in the SSC cafeteria tomorrow.

The subject of this conference will be the recruitment and retention of teachers. Dr. Willis Black, placement officer, commented that this recruitment and retention refers to teachers that already have jobs and not to students becoming teachers.

This conference will run from 9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Saturday. It will be opened with a welcoming speech by Dr. Guy A. West, president of SSC.

The main speaker, Dr. Harold H. Stephenson, president of Sacramento Junior College will follow West. Other speakers are Dr. Stephen Walker, dean of instruction; Dr. H. Orville Nordberg, division of teacher education; Dr. Willis J. Black, placement officer; Dr. F. Blair Mayne, executive dean; Jerome M. Page, assistant professor of education, all of SSC.

All public school administrators from the 17 counties and 366 school districts which SSC serves have been invited.

Students Vote For Princess As Dance Feature

The Junior Prom will get underway to the theme of the Midnight Sun tonight at 9 p.m. at the Eastern Star temple at 29th and J streets. Milton Dick's orchestra will provide the music.

Bids for the dance will be $2 with an ASSSC card and $2.50 without. They may be purchased either at the book store or at the dance.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the prom princess, who will be voted on at the dance. Princess candidates include Lynne McMorrine, Peg Rooney and Carol Farnsworth.

John Amarant is in charge of the election.

Although the dance is scheduled as formal, men may wear dark suits in lieu of tuxedos. Women may wear either long or short formals.

Rosary Weingart, prom general chairman, has said the affair is open to all ASSSC members and their guests.

Refreshments for the dance are being handled by Bill Rapp, Diana MacLennon and Bob Fellefson. Linda Lintz and Nancy Harris are in charge of posters and publicity.

Scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., the affair will last four or more hours, according to members of the junior class.

Lacin Announces Delegates To UN

Delegates to this year's model United Nations, to be held at Stanford University April 10-13, were announced by Dr. Mahmut N. Lacin, advisor to the group.

Out of 39 students interviewed, the following were selected: Maryanne Stephenson, Ron Clark, J. Neil Birch, Rhoda Mason, Lynn Thorsteinson, Jared Ede, Jon Erickson, Helen Lindgren, Nancy Luce and Lavern Maher.

Dr. Lacin said the above named would be contacted immediately after Christmas vacation to begin extensive training for the spring convention.

Sacramento State College will this year represent the country of Saudi Arabia.

Casaba Petitions Due Next Month

Petitions are available in 230 Administration building until January 4 for participation in the Casaba queen contest, according to officials of the Inter Club council.

Sponsored by the Rally committee, the event is scheduled for January 11, with a prize to be awarded the winning contestant.

Final details will be released soon after the first of the year, they said.

Men Not Represented

The men on the Sacramento State College campus may not realize it, but they are not being represented in the Student Council this year. Lloyd Snelson, men's representative, has attended only three meetings all year, and has the worst attendance record of any Council member.

This should be a matter of deep concern for the Student Council. There are only 11 voting members in that group, and when one of them is habitually absent, the working membership must accept a greater share of the duties which confront the Council. In addition, the men students, about one-half of the student body, are receiving no effective representation.

Snelson may very well have an adequate reason for his terrible attendance record. He may not have sufficient time to devote to student government.

If Snelson does not have time to adequately fulfill his office, however, he should resign.

It would not be amiss for Student Council to deliver an ultimatum to Snelson: "Either attend meetings or quit." It is entirely within the scope of the Council to take such action, and it could not help but have beneficial effect. If Snelson decided to attend the meetings, the present problem will be solved, and if he decides to resign, another election can be held, and the men can elect another representative.

President's Comments

By TOM WILLOUGHBY
Associated Students President

The ideas expressed in this column are those of the author and are not necessarily the opinions of either The Hornet or the Student Council.

What happened last Monday at the meeting of the Student Council? Since Council made a decision about the rooter's train which has great import for all of us, it will be well to examine its actions thoroughly so we may be better able to criticize and evaluate its decision.

To begin with, the council was scheduled to hear a report on the rooters train given by Don Baxter, chairman of the trip. It was indicated that the nature of the report was such that it might possibly be detrimental to someone's character. The details of the report thus could not properly be recorded in the minutes and released for public consumption. Thus the council moved into closed session to hear the report.

The press was not barred from this session. In order to criticize adequately the actions of the Student Council, the press needs to know the full background of

Vocalist Presents Varied Program

Sandra Rhodes, a music major at Sacramento State College, presents her senior recital tonight at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

This is Miss Rhodes' second solo vocal recital at SSC. Last year she presented her junior recital, the first undergraduate recital in the college's history. She was accompanied, as she will be tomorrow night, by Bonnie Gardner on the piano and Marlene Grass on the violin.

The three music majors will combine to present Brahms' Two Songs for Alto and Viola. Miss Rhodes will also offer from Schubert songs, four songs of the British Isles as set by the contemporary English composer, Benjamin Britten, an aria from Jeanne D'Arc, by Tschaikowsky, and a group of modern English and American songs.

The program is free and open to the public.

DREAM—John Ickes, in a scene from Seven Year Itch, dreams he is a fascinating creature to all women, including the girl upstairs, Diana Lions. Miss Lions is a Sacramento State College student. A rude awakening is in store in the play, presented tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Studio Theater Playhouse.

SSC Chorus And Choir Schedule Christmas Concert For Tuesday

Traditional carols, modern Christmas songs and other choral music of the season is scheduled for a joint Christmas concert, which will be presented by the Sacramento State College chorus and A Cappella Choir on Tuesday at 8:13 in the Little Theater.

Paschal Monk, associate professor of music, is conductor of both groups, and Frances Sanders and Bonnie Gardner serve as accompanists for the chorus and choir.

The chorus, numbering approximately 50 voices, will present the first part of the concert, which will include The Antiyue De Jean Racine, by Gabriel Aure, two Christmas numbers by F. Melius Christiansen; a Bach chorale; and settings of carols from several countries. Dolores Chulick, soprano, and Penny Anton, contralto, will sing solos in the Christiansen numbers.

Mary Lee Dozier, harpist, a graduate student at Sacramento State College, will be guest soloist on the program and will close part one with Schubert's Ave Maria, arranged for the harp by Macqquarrie.

The 65-member A Cappella choir, now in its second year at Sacramento State College, will present the second half of the program. It will feature several modern compositions including the Randall Thompson, Allelulia; The Story of the Twelve, by Tom Scott; All Were There, by George Lynn; and Gloria for Christmas, by Willard Straight.

Miss Dozier will join the chorus to play harp accompaniments for two favorite Christmas songs, What Child is This, set to the tune of My Lady Greensleeves, and the Adolphe Adam, O Holy Night. Sandra Rhodes, mezzo-soprano, will be soloist in the latter number.

The program, which will be the last official function of the College before the Christmas recess,

Church Presents Handel's Messiah

Handel's Messiah goes into its second performance Sunday, when the 50-voice choir of Fremont Presbyterian Church presents the work at 7:30 p.m. in the church at 3th and J streets.

Alex Gould conducts the group, which is accompanied by Frederic Errett at the piano and Ray Blackburn at the organ. Soloists include Gould, tenor, Barbara Saldine, soprano, Vahan Toolajian, bass, and Margaret Irene Hooper, contralto. Miss Hooper is a graduate of Sacramento State College.

Before the oratorio, Errett and Blackburn will offer as duets three excerpts from the Symphonic Piece by Joseph Clokey and Sheep May Safely Graze and Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring by Bach.

THE PUZZLER — One thing that puzzles every married man is why every bachelor isn't rich.

Crocker Continues Concert Series

Crocker Art Gallery will continue its concert series with a recital by Charles Adams, young pianist of the bay area. Adams will appear on Sunday at 3 p.m.

Adams studied at San Francisco Conservatory of Music before going to Paris to the National Conservatory. He also studied at the Mozarteum in Salzburg.

APO Holds Yule Party

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, will hold a Christmas party Tuesday evening for needy and under privileged children that live in the Sacramento area. Hank Abouaf is chairman of the project.

Representatives from the local Kappa Sigma chapter attended the sixteenth annual West Coast Regional convention of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, held at the San Francisco City College from November 30 to December 2. Sacramento State College students who attended were Ross Brown, local chapter president, Brian Roberts and Doug Forsterer.

Bryan Breake is the newest pledge to the fraternity.

Alpha Phi Omega members and pledges are currently engaged in a service project at Camp Pollock.

ICC Reports Plans Concerning Activity

Plans are still in the formulative stages for the Hobo Hop, to be presented off campus in January, according to latest information made available to the Inter Club council.

Highlight of the evening is to be the crowning of a couple as "hobo" king and queen, with everyone in attendance to be under consideration for the honor.

Additional and final details will be available following the Christmas recess, Howard Schwartz, ICC president, said.

Adams Takes Post As Circle K Prexy

Stan Adams was officially installed as president of Circle K International at a recent dinner-meeting at the Driftwood.

Adams replaces John Briggs who has stepped down from the office of president due to his extra duties as the business manager of the yearbook, the Statesman.

Adams is a sophomore and has been in the club for the past year. He is also a business administration major, and assistant manager of the yearbook.

The fraternity has erected a 14-foot Christmas tree in front of Douglass hall as part of the campus decoration project by Sacramento State College clubs and organizations. John Cuneo and DeJong are in charge of the project. The decorations includes outdoor lights for night use.

Paul Spaulding, chairman, Dave Schelihous and Bob McCarthy will be responsible for a rummage sale to be held by Kappa Sigma Kappa in January.

Xi Theta Chi Plans Formal Initiation With Dinner and Party Tomorrow

Xi Theta Chi will hold its formal initiation at 7 p.m. tomorrow with a dinner in the Old Tavern Inn. A party for members and their dates will follow.

Roger Whitney is chairman of the initiation with Bob Tallmon acting as pledgemaster. The following pledges who will become freshmen members are: Bob Zaro, Bob Warner, Ron Clark, Carl Krause, Jay Turner, Jim Gentry, Dave Moser, Mike Linn, Tom Ferrari, Morris Easley and Edward Cooper.

Members of XTC have decorated the south door of the cafeteria with various Christmas scenes. Mike Linn, Bob Zaro and Tom Ferrari were in charge of the decorations. Gloria Clark designed the scenes.

Baptists Set Social

Baptist Student Union has set the date for their Christmas social as December 16, to be held in the home of a member. Students from Davis and Sacramento Junior College have been invited.

The program will include preparing a basket for a needy family, and having entertainment and refreshments.

All conference and little all American teams are almost selected and, as expected, Sacramento State College didn't fare too well. Only one player from SSC was mentioned on any of the teams.

John Skube, a guard on this year's edition of the Hornets got recognition on three teams. (See a separate story on page seven.)

Far Western Conference co-champions, San Francisco State, Cal Aggies and Humboldt State dominated the conference all-star team.

Phil Sarboe's Humboldt Lumberjacks led the team with four selections. The Aggies and Gators each had three selections. The team was composed of Chuck McAninch, Humboldt, and Myrel Moore, Cal Aggies, ends; Phil Huff, Humboldt, and Floyd Peters, San Francisco, tackles; John Kidd, Cal Aggies, and Pete Sieber, Chica, guards; Caesar Fiamma, Humboldt, center; Manual Perry, San Francisco, quarterback; Earl Barnum, Humboldt, and Lonnie Cagle, Cal Aggies, halfbacks, and Bob Rodrigo, San Francisco, fullback.

Nevada and San Francisco each contributed three members to the second team, Cal Aggies had two selectees, and Sacramento, Humboldt and Chico had one selected.

There were four FWC players selected for the little all coast team as picked by the United Press. Kidd and Peters made the first team and Barnum and Ernie Matlock, a fullback from Chico, were picked for the second string backfield.

Many Far Western conference players were selected for the Associated Press little all America team.

Eaglet Opens House

Among highlights of Sacramento Civic Repertory theatre's Christmas observance will be a reading of Dicken's Christmas Carol by Peter Knoles.

The open house party, scheduled for Monday at 7:30 p.m., will also include carol singing and Wassail bowls filled with mulled cider.

Roloff's Squad Rolls Up Win Over Alumni

After three consecutive losses Coach Harvey Roloff's Hornet basketballers nailed down their first win of the season, defeating an alumni team, 69-65, in the Sacramento State College gymnasium Saturday evening.

The previous night found Fresno State topping the Hornets, 79-70, in a high scoring game played in Fresno.

Chuck Mobley was the main factor in the win over the grads, as the all-league guard led scorers with 19 points, and played a fine floor game.

Two other Hornets cracked the double figure, as Bob Schurr hit 14 and consistent Sonny Rolfe produced 10 more. Don Fausset and Norman Weis rebounded well for the winners, and combined talents for a total of 14 more points.

Center Tom Brian led the alumni with 15 counters, and Carl Youngstrom added 11. J. C. Masters, Chris Georgis and Bob Steen were other alumni starters, and each scored 8 points.

In the Fresno game, Bulldog stars Len Brown and Gary Alcorn spelled the margin of difference with excellent rebounding and prolific scoring.

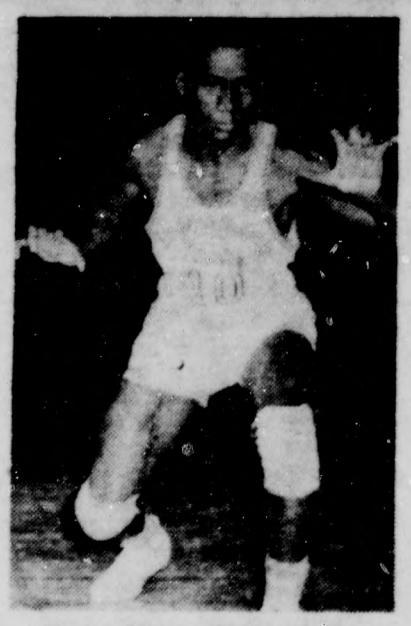

Brown's tremendous jumping ability and Alcorn's height, 6-9, proved outstanding offensive weapons for the high scoring Fresno quintet.

Alcorn netted 20 points, mostly around the basket, and Brown furnished the home club with 17 more, displaying good moves under the bucket as well as a deadly jump shot from outside.

Schurr was SSC's high man with 14, while Rolfe added 11. Mobley got nine, and Dale Freeman and Fausset eight each.

Ringmen On Road To Meet Broncos

Sacramento State College will open it's second full boxing season tonight when the team travels to San Jose to face the ringsters from the University of Santa Clara. Hank Elespuru is the Hornet head coach. The next matches will be a return bout with the Broncos in the SSC ring.

MVP—Chuck Mobley last season was named Sacramento State College's most valuable player and was also selected on the All Far Western conference basketball team.

He was third highest scorer in the FWC, averaging 17.5 points.

Mobley, a sophomore, is a physical education major and was named on the all Far-East Air Force team while in service.

Play Night Staged For PE Students

A play night for all Physical Education majors and minors will be held tonight in the gymnasium from 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. according to Chuck Green, chairman.

Green announced that the event will feature a mixed doubles badminton tournament, ping pong and volleyball. He said that the PE faculty members have formed a mixed volleyball team and that they will take on the all-students team.

Refreshments will be served, he concluded.

SSC Hornets Meet Long Beach In Last Pre-Tournament Tuneup

Sacramento State College Hornets will meet the Long Beach State College 49'ers tomorrow night at 8:15 in their final home tuneup before the Far Western conference holiday tournament in Reno on December 27, 28, 29. On Monday the Hornets will travel to Mather air force base to meet the Skynights for the third time this season; the two previous meetings were on a scrimmage basis.

Coach Harvey Roloff will start Don Fausset at the pivot spot in tomorrow's game with the 49'ers. Carl "Sonny" Rolfe will be at one of the forward spots with 6'5" Frank White or Dale Freeman at the other forward position. All-Conference Chuck Mobley, who is the Hornets playmaker, will be at guard with Bob Schurr.

University of Nevada will host the 1956 FWC holiday tournament and has been installed by the experts as a slight favorite to win the crown. The Wolfpack of Nevada has a veteran squad which won a share of the 1955-56 FWC championship. They are led by Jim "Tiny" Lyon who preped at Sacramento High school and attended Sacramento Junior College.

ASSSC Prohibits Non-SSC Letters

Due to the increasing number of students wearing jackets and sweaters with awards from institutions other than Sacramento State College, there has been a revision of the policies of the Associated Students.

Prior to this revision there was no authority delegated for the enforcement of the policy prohibiting the wearing of such jackets. The change gives the Block S society the power to enforce the policy in a legal manner. The legal manner of enforcement is for Block S members to warn offenders and if that fails they are to get witnesses of the violation and the offender will be called before the board of justice.

those actions, even if part of that background is of a confidential nature and can never appear in print.

As soon as the report was completed the council moved back into open session to deliberate and to arrive at its conclusions in the full light of public scrutiny.

What was in the report? Let us summarize. The box score reads as follows: one person almost killed; several persons sustaining minor injuries; many lapsing into a state where they were no longer responsible for their actions.

With these considerations in mind the Council was forced to view the rooters train—from a strictly objective and non-moral point of view—as a probable source of serious physical injuries and possible financial liability, both for the college and ASSSC. In short it seemed only a matter of time until someone would be injured seriously and both college and the student association would be embroiled in law suits.

There were two alternatives of action. Council, secure in the knowledge that the rooters train was over for this year, could have refrained from any action at all. They could have ducked responsibility and criticism, its bedfellow. This would have been an extremely short-sighted action. Personal security from possible criticism would have been pitted against the certain odds that any serious accident of future trains would mean an end to rooters trains altogether.

On the other hand, the council could have taken positive action. They could have looked to the future and tried to eliminate the problems of accident and liability which threatened to end the rooters trains. Council is to be commended that it took this latter action. By unanimous vote it adopted a resolution to include a railroad policeman on future trains to help enforce ASSSC policies. Such action seems sure to provide for the continuance of the rooters train as an institution here at SSC.
